RENEWING YOUR GTP® CERTIFICATION

Attaining your Global Travel Professional® (GTP) Certification indicates achievement of professional knowledge and experience. To stay current, it is essential that GTP® holders continuously seek opportunities to increase their professional development.

The GTP Recertification Program is designed to be a continuous process of learning and professional development. Recertification helps you stay well-versed in concepts, technology, principles, and best practices. Recertification provides employers and professionals with a method of assessing continued professional development. It is designed to facilitate continued development through participation in a variety of learning experiences, such as education, training, teaching, publishing, and volunteer leadership.

To recertify as a GTP, individuals must demonstrate their involvement in professional development activities OR demonstrate competency by successfully passing another GTP examination.

Continuing to uphold and abide by the GTP Code of Professional Conduct is also a requirement for maintaining and renewing your GTP.

RECERTIFICATION CYCLE

The GTP® Certification is valid for three (3) years ending in either June or December. The expiration date is printed on your certificate.

For example:

- If you take and pass the exam in the May computer based testing window, your certification will be valid from the time you receive your exam results until June 2019

Renewal reminder notifications will be emailed to you three times prior to expiration:

- One year prior to expiration
- Three months prior to expiration
- Thirty days before you are scheduled to renew your GTP

It is important for GTP holders to also maintain current contact information. It is ultimately the responsibility of the individual to maintain renewal requirements.

Non-receipt of a recertification reminder does not waive the requirement to recertify and will not serve as an appeal to expiration. Please notify our department at certification@gbta.org of address, phone, or email changes.

RECERTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS

To recertify as a GTP®, individuals must complete a total of fifty (50) recertification credits within a three-year period. Recertification credits are the measuring units used to quantify approved learning and professional development activities. You may earn the recertification credits at any time during your three-year recertification cycle. Additional credits earned beyond the required 50 recertification credits cannot be “rolled over” to the next reporting cycle. You may begin earning credits toward recertification as soon as you are informed that you passed the examination.

Recertification credit activities completed prior to obtaining the GTP are not accepted toward the renewal requirements.

In addition to obtaining 50 recertification credits you must continue to abide by and uphold the GTP Code of Professional Conduct (included in the renewal application) and agree to continue to use any GTP credential in an authorized and appropriate manner.

Membership is not a requirement to renew the GTP Certification. However, if renewal applicants are members, they will receive the member recertification fee.

Upon obtaining successful recertification from the GBTA Academy, a new three-year cycle begins.

RENEWAL TESTING OPTION

GTP® holders may elect to renew their certification by retaking the GTP exam instead of obtaining recertification credits. The examination must be taken before the certification term expires. Recertification by examination candidates are subject to the current testing fees. Candidates will not need to pay the recertification fee if the re-testing option is selected. For current testing dates, please visit: www.gbta.org/certification.

EXPIRED STATUS

If you do not earn the necessary recertification credits or retake the exam within the three-year period, your GTP® will expire. If you let your GTP expire, you may not refer to yourself as a GTP or use the GTP credential. To attain the GTP again, you will be required to reapply by submitting the initial application, submitting the associated fees, and retaking the examination.
You will need to maintain documentation that supports your recertification credit activities. For each claim, you should keep a copy of submission and the supporting documentation required.

WHY YOU SHOULD KEEP RECERTIFICATION CREDITS DOCUMENTATION

There are no requirements to attach documentation or proof of attendance to your recertification form. However, a percentage of GTP® holders will be randomly selected for an audit. Audits are a standard of practice across the certification industry. The purpose of these audits is to ensure that GTP holders have earned the credits reported during their recertification cycle.

You should maintain a GTP folder in a safe and easily accessible place to file documents that support your reported recertification credit activities. For each claim, you should keep a copy of the submission and the supporting documentation.

Documentation for all recertification credit claims should be maintained for at least two (2) years.

If you are selected for the audit, you are required to participate, and expected to adhere to the policies and procedures of the audit. If you cannot supply documentation that confirms completion of the reported recertification activities, you will be considered delinquent and your certification may be revoked by the Certification Governance Board (CGB).

Documentation includes:

- Transcripts
- Certificate of Completion
- Program indicating name of sponsor, agenda, instructor, hours, date
- Active participation as GBTA subject matters expert, serving on committees or board
- Publishing an article related to business travel and the test content outline

- You may earn any number of credits per year. You may earn all your credits at any time during the 3 years.
- Some recertification program categories have a maximum number of eligible credits per recertification cycle.
- An activity should be listed exactly as the title appears on the printed materials for the event.

Do not forward documentation of attendance or participation to the GBTA Academy when filing your recertification credits.

REPORTING CREDITS

You must record your recertification credits and complete the renewal process before your cycle ends in order to avoid expiration of your GTP. Tracking of credits can be done through the recertification portal found on the GTP® Holder Recertification page on the GBTA website.

EXTENSIONS DUE TO EXTENUATING CIRCUMSTANCES

In cases where GTP holders, due to extenuating circumstances, cannot obtain the required recertification credits by the required renewal date, a request for an extension should be sent in writing to GBTA Academy at certification@gbta.org. The policy allows an extension up to 60 days when:

- The extension request is in writing and based upon extenuating circumstances.
- The extension request includes a written plan as how the individual will obtain the missing credits within no more than the 60 day extension period.
- When the renewal requirements are met during the extension period, the date of next renewal will continue to be the original date. Extenuating circumstances would include such conditions as active military or an extended illness that results in a family medical leave of absence for you or an immediate family member.

Your credential will remain current during the period of your extension but will shorten the length of your next reporting cycle. Please treat this policy as a courtesy.

To request an extension:

- Submit in writing to certification@gbta.org
  - Indicate you request for an extension.
  - List all credits earned to date.

RECERTIFIED

After processing the completed application and renewal payment, GBTA will send you updated documentation with the new active GTP certification cycle dates. Please allow 6-8 weeks for postal delivery of your documentation.
