

ITILITE launches an industry-leading 3% cashback and new AI capabilities for business travel

13th August, Dallas, TX - ITILITE, the fastest growing travel and expense management platform, announces the launch of an industry leading cashback program. Companies using ITILITE can earn up to 3% cashback on their travel spend.

Unmatched convenience and enterprise grade controls now come with an amazing cashback program in business travel. This is an exciting top up over the many unique ways ITILITE offers to reduce its customers' travel spend. Employee incentive led savings, automatic reshopping on price drop, full tracking of unused credits, fully managed contract negotiation service are some of the multiple ways companies already save with ITILITE.

Along with cashback, ITILITE is also announcing upgrades to its customer facing AI capabilities.

ITILITE Mastermind is an industry first AI powered virtual travel expert in your pocket. Mastermind constantly crunches company data in the background, benchmarks it to the industry to find improvement areas and gives concrete recommendations to improve the T&E program.

ITILITE has also upgraded its traveler facing AI which understands how a traveler wants to book and suggests the most likely options upfront. This is like having an experienced travel consultant always with you, supercharged with technology. Customers are able to book their travel within 90 seconds because of extreme personalization.

ITILITE has been using AI in business travel for a long time and fully intends to stay at the bleeding edge of technology to build amazing business travel experiences.
